OVERVIEW OF HCI AUSTRALIA

HCI Australia commenced operations in 2004 and today employs almost 300 staff in Australian major states. Over 22,000 students have graduated from vocational, undergraduate, and postgraduate education and continuing, training, and bridging courses at its Melbourne, Sydney, and Perth campuses along with South Asia, Southeast Asia, and Middle East international partnerships.

Institute of Health & Nursing Australia (IHNA)

Accredited with ASQA and ANMAC, IHNA has been a premier nursing provider since 2007 and has dedicated a quality student experience in learning and teaching to over 22,000 students for a satisfying career and rewarding profession in Nursing, Allied Health, Community Services, and Early Childhood. The contemporary laboratories and facilities, administrative and educational support, healthcare experts and trainers, student welfare, and management are committed to a positive student journey.

Institute of Health & Management (IHM)

Accredited by TEQSA, ANMAC, and AASW, IHM is a premier provider of holistic healthcare education in Australia with industry-acclaimed programs in Nursing, Dentistry, Medicine, Public Health, and Social Work. Technology-rich, innovative learning environments, and practical learning outcomes are key focuses for IHM. The virtual simulations, immersive platforms, and quality curricula are aligned with global best practices which equip students with the latest knowledge, tools, techniques, skills, and competencies.

RTO ID: 21985
CRICOS Provider Code: 03386G

The Institute of Health and Nursing Australia (IHNA) is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) approved by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) to provide education and training courses in the fields of Nursing and Healthcare.

As one of Australia's leading providers of comprehensive health and nursing education, IHNA's high quality healthcare courses provide a multitude of varied education pathways that are complemented by continuing professional education and upskilling programs. These work-ready programs are available at campuses in Perth, Melbourne, and Sydney.

Our passion for caring stems from healthcare, but it translates to how we approach student welfare, administrative, and educational support. You will also find that IHNA goes the extra mile to ensure that your experience is positive from start to finish. Our support extends to providing research opportunities for you to push the boundaries of the healthcare industry. We have further study available as postgraduate courses through our partner organisations.

Ultimately, we're healthcare experts and trainers dedicated to career-focused learning and real-life outcomes so that more people can live better lives working in healthcare.

CRICOS Provider: 03407G | Provider ID: PRV14040

IHM is ranked in the top 25 Australian higher education institutions for quality of education experience according to the ratings of participating IHM students in the 2020 Student Experience Survey (SES). IHM was ranked #22 for Overall Quality, #6 for Skills Development and #32 for Student Support, out of 134 participating higher education institutions.

The healthcare industry is in an era of transformation, and educators in this sector have to innovate to prepare practitioners for best practices and models of care. This is where an education at IHM truly makes a difference. Bringing together the collective expertise of experienced nurses, academics, and clinicians, IHM courses are delivered by professionals with extensive expertise in on-campus and online learning and teaching.

Since 2012, the Institute of Health & Management (IHM) has established itself as a premier provider of exceptional healthcare and nursing education in Australia. Offering industry acclaimed programs for Nurses, Medical practitioners, Dentists and other Healthcare professionals, IHM has achieved the status of an institute of higher education granted by the Australian Government's Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA).

Healthovation

Research & Development

We focus on the core theme of research and innovation underpinned by four pillars TREP — Technology, Research, Entrepreneurship and Publication.

Visit: www.healthovation.com.au

Healthovation is a derivative of HCI's vision to establish its own research and innovation division to further ameliorate education and research activities globally, primarily in the health sector. We focus on the core theme of research and innovation underpinned by four pillars TREP — Technology, Research, Entrepreneurship and Publication.

Magazine

Click here to visit us

The idea to launch a magazine for Health Careers International Group took roots from the need to build a stronger brand identity for the organisation globally. Christened as “The Healthovation”, magazine is conceived to stand for international education, technological innovation and global career opportunities in the healthcare sector.
